

FORM IT RIGHT!

Identifying the Right Question Type for the Right Data

Presented by: Rowell T. Cruz

Game Mechanics

Instructions:

- You will be shown five scenarios for data gathering.
- Each scenario has four question-type options.
- Choose the most appropriate question type for the situation.
- 1 point for each correct answer!

Let's start playing!

Scenario 1

You are collecting students' age and section.

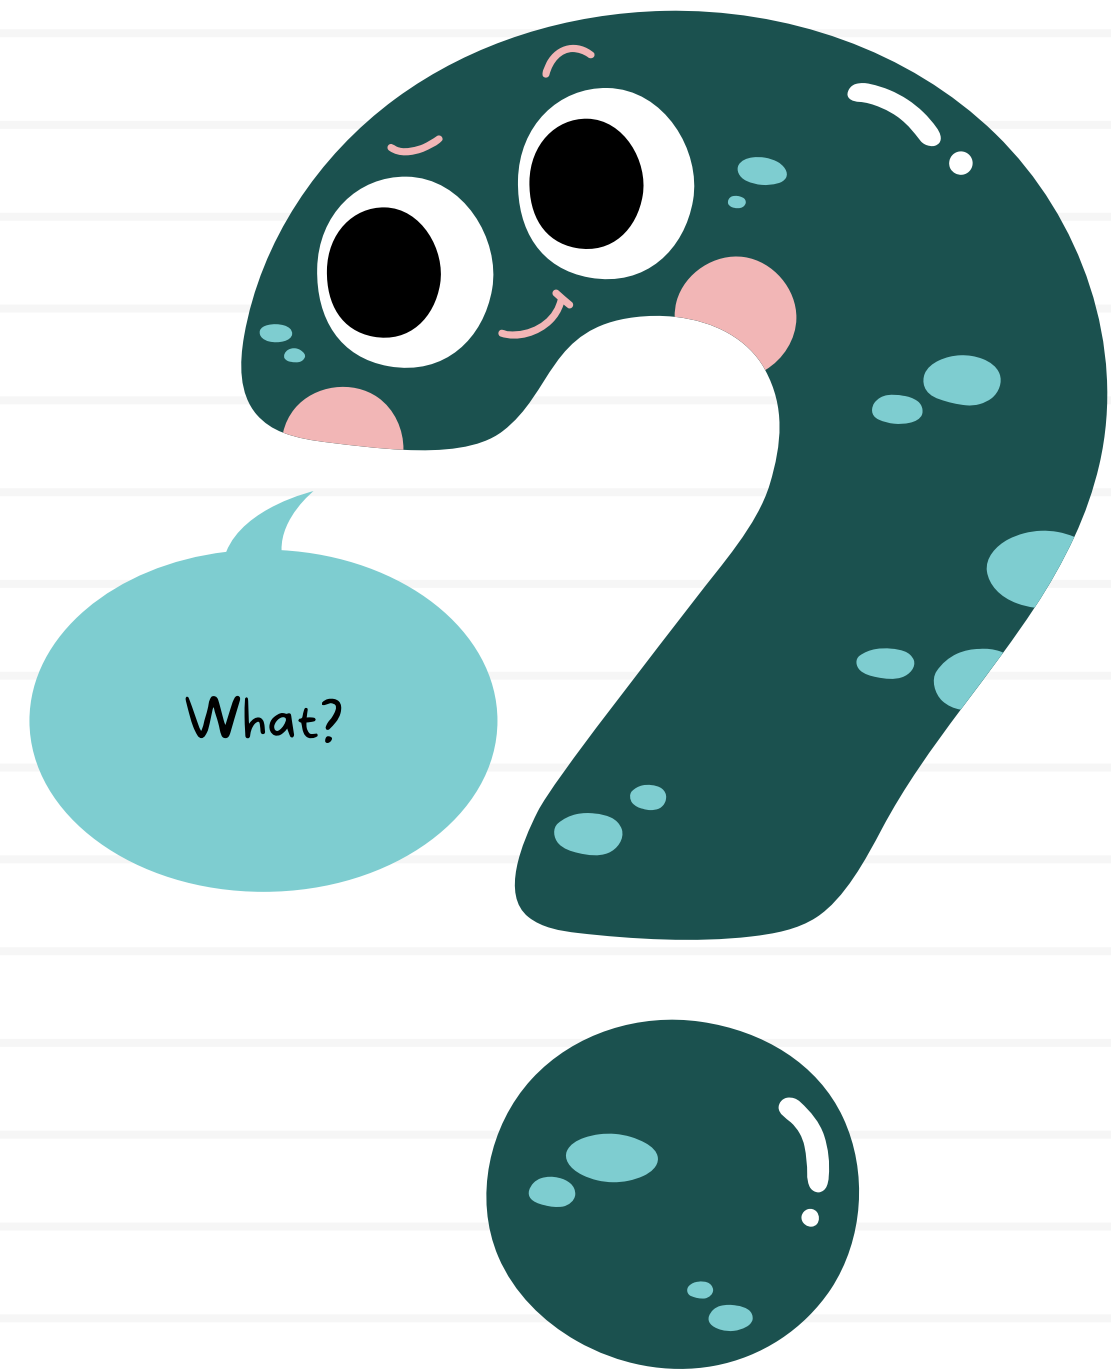

What Google Form question type should you use?

a. Multiple Choice

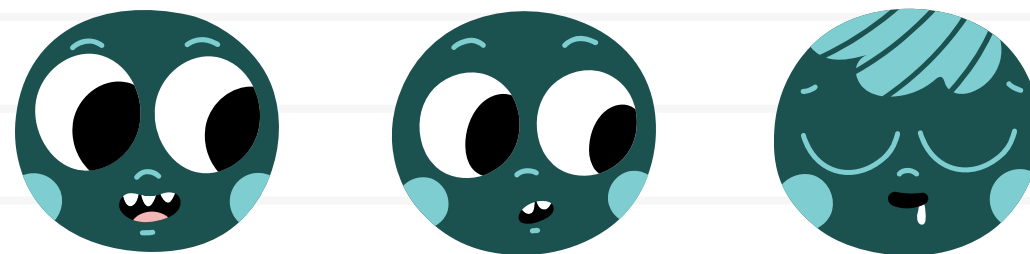

b. Short Answer

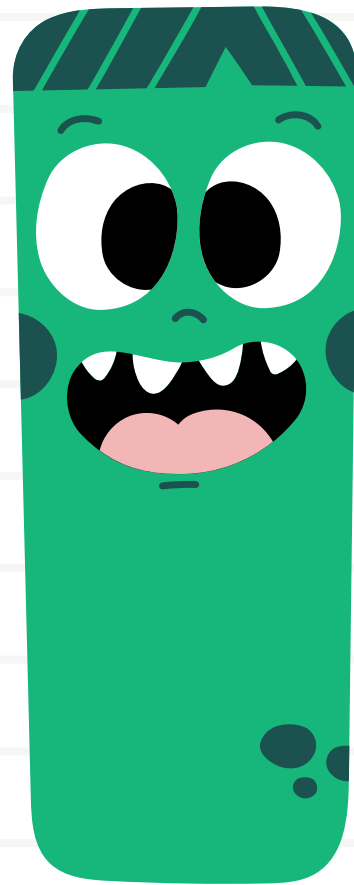

c. Checkbox

d. Paragraph

Correct Answer
B. Short Answer

Scenario 2

You want to know which extracurricular activities students join.

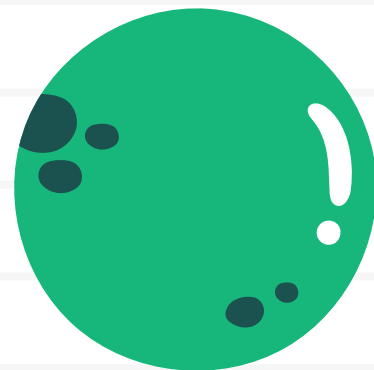

What question type fits best?

a. Dropdown

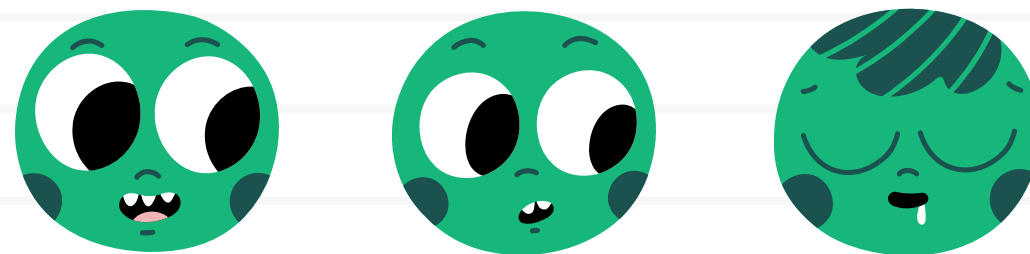

b. Checkbox

c. Short Answer

d. Paragraph

Correct Answer
B. Checkbox

Scenario 3

You're surveying what learning modality students prefer.
(Only one answer should be chosen.)

a. Multiple Choice

b. Checkbox

c. Linear Scale

d. Dropdown

Stop it.

Correct Answer
A. Multiple Choice

Give me a break.

Scenario 4

You want students to rate their satisfaction with school facilities from 1 to 5.

Which type will you use?

- a. Short Answer
- b. Linear Scale
- c. Multiple Choice Grid
- d. Paragraph

Correct Answer
B. Linear Scale

Scenario 5

You want respondents to give suggestions for improving online learning.

What type of question is appropriate?

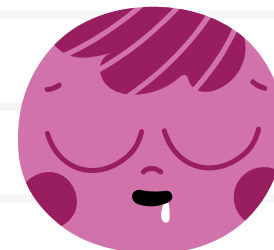

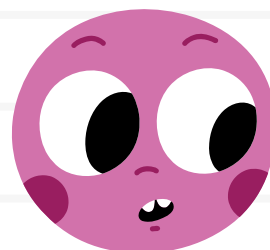

a. Dropdown

b. Checkbox

c. Short Answer

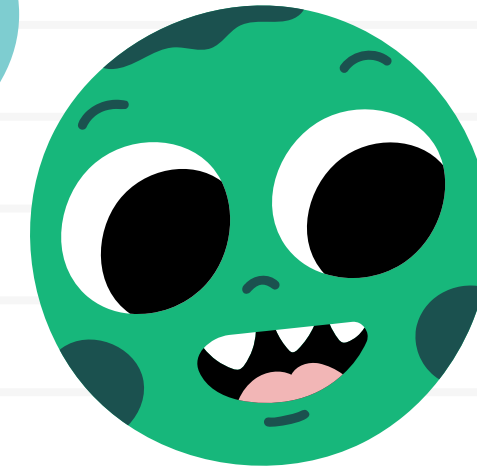

d. Paragraph

Correct Answer
D. Paragraph

Score Guide:

- 5/5 – Google Forms Expert!
- 4/5 – Almost perfect! You know your data types well.
- 3/5 – Good try, but check which question types fit which data.

Applied Approach/Strategy

Approach Used: Constructivist Approach

Strategy: Game-Based Learning

Method/Technique: Interactive Quiz Technique

Let's join!

Explanation of Approach/Strategy

This activity applies the Constructivist Approach where learners build understanding through experience and decision-making.

By playing Form It Right!, students actively identify, analyze, and apply the correct question types, turning knowledge into practice through interactive learning rather than passive lecture.

Let's begin.

Stop talking!